6. If a dog behaves in a way that makes a person worried that it might injure them it is dangerously out of control .	14	5	1

How did the dogs score?

For questions 1 - 5, each (a) = 3, (b) = 2, (c) = 1.

Score 15: Congratulations!
Your dog is a positive angel and a credit to you.
There was only 1 angel.

Score 11-14: Well done. With just a bit of extra training your dog could certainly be angelic. When dropping off your form you might want to talk about how to achieve "angel" status with our guest, animal behaviourist, Katie.

11 dogs were in this range.

Score 8-10: The halo is definitely slipping. How about some extra training or an obedience class? There is a list of local dog training businesses at the Friends of Troopers Hill gazebo and you might want to talk to our guest, animal behaviourist, Katie.

8 dogs were in this range.

Score 5-7: Oh dear – definitely not a little angel! But with the right encouragement all dogs can learn. There is a list of local dog training businesses at the Friends of Troopers Hill gazebo and you might want to talk to our guest, animal behaviourist, Katie.

Only 1 definite non-angel.

Is there anything that could be done on Troopers Hill to make your visit more enjoyable? (If you answer more dog bins/benches/play equipment/information etc please give details such as where, how many/what type and so on)

One person said "Bigger dog show more entries please"
Another said "Bigger dog show yearly - more entries" Those were all the suggestions.

The answer to question 6 is TRUE - Taken from the DEFRA leaflet "Control of Dogs, The Law and You". The full text is on <http://www.defra.gov.uk/publications/2011/06/21/pb13573-dogs-law-you/>.

WHAT IS MEANT BY DANGEROUSLY OUT OF CONTROL?

Any dog is dangerously out of control if:

- it injures a person, or
- it behaves in a way that makes a person worried that it might injure them.
